

Season Opens.

All winter long the husky drove Sat winning pennants by the stove. Week after week, time slipped away With double-headers every day. The crowd that won the winter flag May slump today and hold the bag. Here's hoping we've a goodly team That will not shatter winter's dream.

MORE LEGAL LIGHT.

(Mt. Olivet Tribune.)

Judge Buckler has had a window put in the north side of his law office, this giving him light from the north, east and west. J. S. Garrison did the work neatly and artistically.

MOTHERS OF THIS COUNTRY have through all ages past and will through all years to come, take care of the ordinary simple ailments incident to every family with their own favorite remedy.

In almost every home in the land, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the recognized standard household remedy for female ills; thousands of American women owe their good health to it. Made from the roots and herbs of the field, it is a simple remedy in which suffering women may place perfect confidence. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

AFTER GRIPPE

Made Strong By Vinol.

John C. Furman, of Clarion, Pa., says: "After a very severe attack of the gripple my system was in a weakened, nervous and run-down condition. I had no appetite at all. I was obliged to continue with my work, and nothing seemed to help me until a friend induced me to take Vinol. I began to note good results from the first bottle. I continued its use and am now sound and well as ever."

In health one cannot realize how depressed a person may become after trying one remedy after another without benefit for such a condition as Mr. Furman was in, or what a relief it is to find help and be restored to health and strength.

It is the combined action of the medicinal curative elements of cods' livers without the greasy oil, aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron, that makes Vinol so efficient in building up the weakened run-down system.

We guarantee Vinol to give you perfect satisfaction. J. C. Peck, Drug-gist, Mayville, Ky.

TALK TO TEACHERS

Given Saturday Morning By Miss Jessie O. Yancey County School Superintendent

Miss Jessie O. Yancey gave an interesting talk to her teachers concerning the K. E. A. at her office last Saturday forenoon.

She mentioned that she had seen a model country home from Winthrop, N. C., and urged upon the teachers to see it and get the costs, and bring back the facts about the house to their patrons.

She urged her teachers to get their Trustees and women too, to go to the K. E. A. The round trip fare is only $4.35. Lodging at the Cortlandt $1.00 per night, including bath, breakfast, lunch, 25c, dinner 50c. All the teachers and Trustees of Fayette County have enrolled. Will Mason County be behind Fayette. Enrollment fee $1.00. Any-one may enroll. The following have enrolled:

Messrs. Gault, Buckner, Callihan, Downing, Caldwell; Misses Pierce, Wallace, Irwin, May Murphy, Essie Boone, Margaret Wood, Elizabeth Murphy, Harriett Haughaboo, Elizabeth Childs and Miss Dobyns.

The Business Men's Club of Louisville made a generous offer to the country teachers. In that they give $1.00 on the purchase price of the book called the "RURAL SCHOOLS," a book that will cost the teachers only 50c, and should be in the hands of every teacher.

Dr. Locke, the State Health officer from Barbourville, will be at the Moransburg school on the afternoon and evening of the 21st. He will build and illustrate the sanitary toilet.

The delegation leaves on Tuesday the 25th and on Wednesday the teachers can visit any school they may desire, among the schools mentioned were the "Open Air," "School for Defective," and for "So-called—Bad Boys."

Among the prizes Miss Yancey is anxious that her county should win the first prize, viz: "Best Exhibit from a County as a Whole." And for one of her teachers to write the prize essay of 150 words on "Why a Teacher Should Attend the K. E. A."

Miss Yancey said there were 33,000 school girls engaged in canning, and supervised by 300 women, and a little twelve year old girl named Clyde Sullivan, of North Carolina, made the best record and cleared $181 on an acre.

Mrs. Cal Arthur was Mason County's representative at the Country Woman's Club.

She read from Mrs. Williams' speech how consolidation works in Shelby County, Tenn. They have spent $350,000 in five years. They have 14 High Schools. In one, 14 miles from a railroad, they employ seven teachers, paying the principal $150, two teachers $80 each, and grade teachers $60 each per month. School building cost $38,000, has sanitary appliances throughout the building and grounds. Owns its own canning process. Miss Williams says this is accomplished by a BOND ISSUE.

The solution to the rural situation seems to be to develop the farm women. R. B. Maunford of Richmond, Va., says develop the farm women as we develop the city.

Give the women the same conveniences and aids as the man gets and employs, and there will not be the drift to the city.

Get busy on the enrollment. Get busy on your school exhibit, and take all you can with you, and bring back all you can from the K. E. A. is the slogan.

Luckily for the success of his suit, a woman seldom sees a man before breakfast until after she is married to him.

Give a woman cosmetics and a dotted veil and she will execute a counterfeit of youth good enough to fool half the men.

KENTUCKY CORN CROP IS WORTH TWICE AS MUCH AS THE TOBACCO CROP.

The corn crop of Kentucky is worth more than all the other farm crops combined. Its estimated value in 1913 was $56,867,000, more than twice that of the State's tobacco crop.

The year 1913 was not a good corn year and the average yield for the State was only twenty bushels to the acre. Some of the best of the corn-growing States did not do as well, but the average yield for the country at large was twenty-three bushels. In acreage Kentucky ranks eleventh among the States, but in 1913 thirty-four States reported a higher average yield. In 1910 and 1912, better corn years, the State's average was approximately thirty bushels, but the average in more than half the States of the Union was higher.

The figures show conclusively that the corn growers of the State are not getting the results they ought to get from their efforts. Kentucky had 3,650,000 acres in corn in 1913. Soil improvement, more care in seed corn selection and better methods of cultivation would double the production of the more than three million acres of land that Kentucky is planting every year in corn. Indeed, it is safe to say that with only moderate improvement in these particulars on the part of the rank and file of the farmers there would be a material increase of production—and that without any increase of acreage.

The average yield of corn in fifteen of our counties is as low as fifteen bushels. That this is due solely to poor methods has been demonstrated by the boys' corn clubs which, in every section of the State, from the mountains to the Mississippi River, have made records of 100 bushels and upward to the acre—Courier-Journal.

Nothing so disappoints a woman as the discovery that her husband has been telling her the truth.

WHAT WOULD I DO WITH $100,000?

I have always been able to handle the "no cents" about as well as the other fellow. In fact, I have no trouble in getting rid of my apportionment of the "circulating medium," "the proverbial 30 cents," which some women recall when they desire to make a thing look infinitesimal in value. But what about the $100,000? I would start around the square again, looking for the men I have been trying to dodge, and say to them, "Come down to my office, I will give you a check for what I owe you!" I would even do more than that. I would knock the first bulldozing sealaway down who intimated my inferiority, financially, socially, politically, or any other "i-c-a-l-l-y," instead sneaking off like a cowardly dog.

Give a man who has been used to suffer abuse because he has no money five ($5) dollars and he will begin to bristle up when insulted by that "better class" set—give him $50 and he will knock the stuffin' out of some of the "class," to the utter astonishment of those who do not know that he had that $50 nerve stimulant in his pocket. The best medicine to brace a fellow up who has been down in the currency gutter, is money. It is better for shattered nerves, depressed spirits and that "all gone" feeling that all the stimulants, papacanes, electric belts manufactured by all the patent quacks in Christendom.

What would I do with $100,000? I would make some fellows who wear good clothing and who pass me with contempt, except when they stop to stick a dun under my nose, feel like "that 30 cents." I'd put a new suit on every little ragged urchin on the street; and have them parade "Broadway and say that the most confounded niggerly, stingy, old miserly cuss of a merchant to be found in the town, gave them the clothes. Of course he'd be mad and swear, but that would make no difference to me, I'd be getting even with him for some of his insults to me and the mothers of these boys, last winter when coal was "30 cents" a bushel.

Wouldn't I pay off the mortgage on the old home! And build a new house, get my wife a new dress and goods to make more on that new machine, buy groceries to last three months, get a gross of matches and buy the children a box of shoe polish and a jews-harp!—nothing small about me. I have not had that $100,000 long enough for it to shiver my soul. No; but I'll "Coal oil Johnnie" before it has any such influence on me.

SAYS KENTUCKY'S DEBT IS EXAGGERATED.

Kentucky's actual public debt is $1,799,943.28 and not $4,450,000 as stated by the census bureau in a preliminary report, according to Assistant State Auditor G. B. Likens, who says that many of the State's apparent obligations are really not obligations at all.

Beware of Claimants For Catarrh That "Contain Mercury," as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co.
